

Booking.com API Codes Documentation for Testing

Official API Documentation

- Demand API: The Demand API is Booking.com's main RESTful API for searching accommodations, checking availability, retrieving property details, and managing bookings. It uses JSON over HTTPS POST requests and is suitable for affiliate partners and developers looking to access Booking.com's inventory
- API Reference: The API Reference provides detailed technical information, including Booking.com-specific codes, enumerations, and OTA (Open Travel Alliance) standards used in various XML attributes. This is essential for understanding the required values and formats for requests and responses
- Error Codes: A comprehensive list of possible error codes you might encounter during API requests is available
